

Social Innovations for Transformative Society

Day 1 - 25th June
Room I-407

11:00 - 12:30 ERUA students joint workshop activities
Transforming How We Do Reach at the University: Including Students as Partners in Academic Writing (I)

This workshop involves students, academic staff, and faculty in a discussion and hands-on writing activity. In the first 90-minutes, the inclusive group will discuss the following questions: how can universities involve students in research? What are the challenges and opportunities in doing so? How can we use our writing to help bring about societal transformation? In the second half, we will put our learning into practice, co-authoring a short article for publication for the ERUA newsletter with the goal of sharing our findings with the larger alliance community to instigate institutional change.
