

Matilde Poggio

Poggio Matilde, University of Macerata, Linguistic Mediation
Never had previous experiences with ERUA.

I'm a very outgoing person, I love getting in contact with new cultures and living new experiences everyday. I love traveling and languages are one of my biggest passions. I am very organized, honest, collaborative and sociable. I also really like nature and practicing any kind of outdoor sport.

I became an ERUA Ambassador because I would like for all students, all around Europe, to find their space inside the society; to give them the rights they need and the voice to speak up their ideas and ideologies. I am a very creative and determinate person, whom, at the same time, is always opened to listening and helping others, so I felt a suitable person within this program.
