

Natali Todorova, New Bulgarian University, Arts and Humanities / Fine Arts, Art History and Art Management

Previous experience with ERUA: I've participated in several seminars that expanded my perspective and connected me with inspiring peers and ideas.

Hobbies and interests: I enjoy nature walks, reading, cycling, visiting exhibitions, and expressing myself through painting and creative arts. I'm deeply interested in ecology, social issues, and fostering cultural and social growth in our communities. I'm passionate about the transformative power of art to inspire change. I'm also moved by the kindness in people, the wonders of nature and animals, and the energy of jazz culture—especially its rebellious spirit and fearless innovation.

Why I became an ERUA ambassador / What inspires me: I believe art sparks conversations, builds bridges, and shifts perspectives. ERUA offers a platform where we can engage with diverse cultures and exchange transformative ideas. What inspires me most is the opportunity to be part of a European network that values creativity, sustainability, and inclusivity.
