

Nurseza Aktan

I am Nurseza Aktan, a Psychology student at SWPS University, studying in English. I previously participated in an ERUA event in Sofia, which gave me valuable insight into the Alliance's goals and community. In my free time, I enjoy all kinds of art, especially writing and music, as ways to express myself and explore creativity. I decided to become an ERUA Ambassador because I believe in the importance of academic cooperation and cultural exchange. What motivates me most in this role is the opportunity to connect students across Europe and help build a more inclusive and engaged academic community.
