Motivation to become an ambassador for ERUA:

I chose to be an ERUA Ambassador because I found the idea of sharing knowledge across different European universities truly inspiring. This belief was deeply reinforced after I completed my Erasmus experience in Las Palmas de Gran Canaria. When faced with different cultures and lifestyles, we need to build bridges, and ERUA does exactly that. Furthermore, I have always had a passion for international relations. I believe that connecting with others is incredibly helpful to fully understand the dynamics around us
