

Matilde Poggio

ERUA Student Ambassador

Field of Studies : International Relations

Hobbies and interests:

I'm a very outgoing person who loves getting in contact with new cultures and living new experiences day by day. I love traveling and languages are one of my biggest passions, especially Chinese. I am very organized, honest, collaborative, and sociable. I am also capable of running over any hurdle life puts in front of my path to reach the goals I set for the success of any plan. I also really like nature and practicing any kind of outdoor sport and activity.

Motivation to become an ambassador for ERUA:

I became an ERUA Ambassador for the third time because I would like for all students, all around Europe, to find their space inside the society; to give them the rights they need and the voice to speak up their ideas and ideologies.

I am a very determinate person, whom, at the same time, is always opened to listening and helping others. Nowadays I think having the possibility to express ourselves is one of the most precious opportunity the society can give us, and it's important to take advantage of this opportunity, shaping a better future and changing for the best. I'm ready to be the face behind everybody's voice of right!
