

Vasileios-Avraam Koutzaogkelian

ERUA Student Ambassador

Field of Studies: Information and Communication Systems Engineering (ICSD)

Hobbies and interests: I am deeply interested in technology, hardware-software integration, and reverse-engineering systems to understand how things work from the ground up. Outside of tech, I enjoy hiking and love exploring cultures through cooking/eating.

Motivation to become an ambassador for ERUA:

I wanted to become an ERUA Ambassador to help bridge the gap between our island campus and the wider European student community. Having experience in organizing student initiatives, I want to use my voice to make international opportunities more visible and accessible to my peers, share our unique perspective from the University of the Aegean, and actively contribute to the upcoming student infopacks.
