ERUA Student Ambassador

Field of Studies : Management and Leadership

Hobbies and interests: I am a creative, communicative, and open-minded person who loves connecting with ambitious and inspiring people. At my university, I serve as President of the Marketing Student Club. I also enjoy tackling real-world business challenges and engaging in intercultural experiences. In my free time, I am a massive Formula 1 fan, and my career goal is to combine my studies with this passion by working in motorsport marketing.

Motivation to become an ambassador for ERUA:

I was drawn to ERUA by its vision of creating an open, collaborative, and student-centered European academic environment.

I deeply believe that universities should be spaces where students don't just learn, but also exchange diverse perspectives, build meaningful international relationships, and grow together. I became an Ambassador to help foster a welcoming and engaging community where fellow students feel empowered to participate, collaborate, and take advantage of international opportunities across higher education.
