Hobbies and interests: I'm passionate about cognitive psychology and learning languages. I love spending time in nature, I'm always up for hiking and exploring places around the world.

Motivation to become an ambassador for ERUA: International education has played a significant role in my life as a student. I have participated in several European projects, and I have also studied and volunteered abroad. As an ERUA Ambassador, I would love to inspire other students to take part in international mobilities. I want to contribute to creating a connected and inclusive student community.
