Transport

Getting to Macerata and moving around the city

Macerata

70 km from Ancona (nearest airport)

180 km from Rome

200 km from Bologna

Getting to Macerata

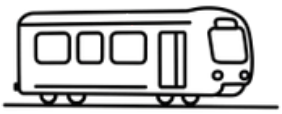

By Air

Nearest airport: Ancona Falconara (AOI) — ~70 km from Macerata.
From the airport to Ancona Centrale station: Aerobus Raffaello shuttle (conerobus.it) or walk 5 min to Castelferretti-Falconara Aeroporto station → train to Ancona

From Rome Fiumicino/Ciampino: train or FlixBus direct to Macerata (some depart from the airport)

From Bologna / Rimini / Pescara: reach nearest station → train to Macerata

By Train

Two stations: Macerata (city centre, the one you want) and Macerata Università (2.5 km out).
Main connections:

- North–south (e.g. Milan–Lecce): change at Civitanova Marche
- West–east (e.g. Rome–Ancona): change at Fabriano or Foligno

Book on trenitalia.com.

By Bus

Buses depart from and arrive at Macerata (Autostazione) in Piazza Pizzarello or Macerata Piediripa (7 km away from the city centre)

Whenever possible, opt for Macerata (Autostazione)*

FlixBus (flixbus.com): direct coach from Rome.
Regional lines: contrammobilita.it.

Getting around Macerata

On foot

Macerata's historic centre is compact and perfectly walkable — most university buildings are within walking distance of each other.

Please note that Macerata is a historic city and it might be sligthly challenging for wheelchair users and baby strollers, because of cobbled streets and elevation*

Urban buses

For getting around the city, APM operates Macerata's urban bus service (apmgroup.it). Tickets are sold at the APM customer desk (Via Pannelli, 1) or at any tabaccheria (look for the "T" sign). Buy your ticket before boarding — tickets purchased on the bus cost more.

Urban ticket prices (updated June 2026):

• Single ride	€1.35 ***
• Weekly card	€11.30
• Monthly card	€30
• Annual student card	€225

€1.25 if you buy a 10-ticket carnet at a tobacco shop (Tabacchi)*

Regional buses

For trips around the region — coast, hills, nearby towns — check regional bus schedules at contrammobilita.it or train timetables at trenitalia.com.

You can also use the Contram Mobilità app to check the bus schedules and buy your ticket!

Eating Habits

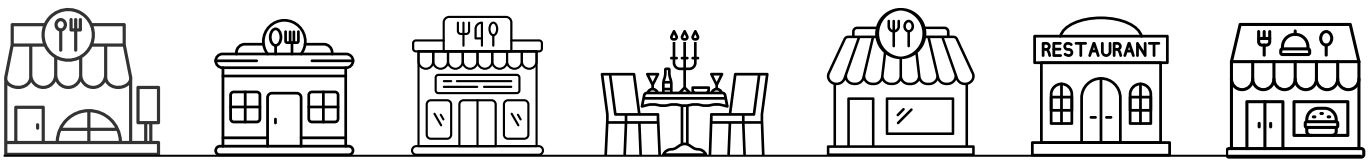

Lunch: 12:30-14:30
Dinner: from 19:30

Dietary Options

Vegetarian and vegan dishes are widely available.

Good to know

Many restaurants charge a small cover fee (coperto).

The venues listed are provided for information only and do not constitute an endorsement by the University of Macerata.

Where to drink

From breakfast to nightlife, Macerata's cafés and bars offer plenty of opportunities to relax, socialise and experience local life.

Coffee & Breakfast

Bar Mercurio — a historic café overlooking Piazza della Libertà, ideal for breakfast, coffee or an aperitivo. Its outdoor seating under the loggia makes it a popular meeting place in the heart of the historic centre.

Caffè Centrale — one of Macerata's historic cafés in Piazza della Libertà, ideal for breakfast, coffee or an evening drink.

Caffè Corso — a convenient option along the main pedestrian street, popular for coffee, light lunches and aperitivi. Also known for its gelato.

Aperitivo

Ginetta — a favourite among international students, known for its excellent spritz and relaxed atmosphere. Coffee from €0.90.

La Rotonda — a classic aperitivo spot by the Giardini Diaz, also open for breakfast. Karaoke nights on Wednesdays.

Mamò — a well-regarded bar on Via Garibaldi, open from early morning. Good pastries and great aperitivo including vegan options.

Because the Night — a cocktail lounge and bistrot right on Piazza della Libertà, known for sophisticated drinks and aperitivo platters.

Evening & Cocktails

Civico 37 — a relaxed bar on Corso della Repubblica, good for beer, wine and live sport. Open from 18:00.

Spulla — a lively cocktail bar that regularly hosts live music and cultural events. A popular meeting place for students and young people. Open from 6:00 pm.

Beer Bang — the go-to spot for craft beer in Macerata, with a rotating selection and a lively atmosphere. Open from 18:30.

Basquiat — a bar/bistrot in Galleria Scipione with a characterful atmosphere and good cocktails. Thursday nights often feature a DJ set — a popular choice for students.

Italian breakfast is usually light.

Most cafés serve coffee with a cornetto or pastry, while savoury breakfasts are less common.

Aperitivo is more than a drink.

Many bars serve complimentary snacks with cocktails in the early evening.

Student nightlife starts late.

Bars usually become livelier after 21:00, especially from Thursday to Saturday.

The venues listed are provided for information only and do not constitute an endorsement by the University of Macerata.

Explore Macerata

Discover the city beyond university life

Discover the city

Small enough to explore on foot, yet rich in history, culture, green spaces and student life, Macerata is the perfect place to discover authentic Italian living.

The Historic Centre

The historic centre is the heart of Macerata and the place where university life unfolds every day. Its elegant piazzas, historic buildings and narrow streets are home to UniMC departments, cafés, restaurants and cultural venues, all within walking distance.

Start your visit in Piazza della Libertà, the city's main square, then wander through the surrounding streets to discover historic palaces, churches and panoramic viewpoints overlooking the Sibillini Mountains and, on clear days, the Adriatic Sea.

Piazza della Libertà, Torre Civica & Teatro Lauro Rossi

Piazza della Libertà

The beating heart of the city, surrounded by elegant arcades and historic palaces. Climb the Torre Civica for panoramic views and admire its remarkable astronomical clock, then step inside the beautiful Teatro Lauro Rossi, a historic theatre hosting a varied programme of plays, concerts, opera and dance performances.

Musei Civici di Palazzo Buonaccorsi

via Don Giovanni Minzoni, 24

A beautifully preserved Baroque palace housing Macerata's civic museum complex. From magnificent frescoed rooms to fine art collections and the unique Museum of Carriages, it offers a fascinating journey through the city's history.

Museo Palazzo Ricci

via Domenico Ricci, 1

Behind its elegant historic façade, Palazzo Ricci is home to one of Italy's most important collections of twentieth-century Italian art. Featuring works by artists such as Morandi, De Chirico, Carrà and Fontana, it is a must-visit for anyone interested in modern art.

Biblioteca Mozzi Borgetti

Piazza Vittorio Veneto, 2

The Biblioteca Mozzi Borgetti is one of Macerata's hidden gems. Founded in the eighteenth century, it combines magnificent historic reading rooms with one of the richest library collections in the Marche region, including rare manuscripts and centuries-old books.

Arena Sferisterio

Piazza Nazario Sauro

One of Italy's most spectacular open-air theatres, the Arena Sferisterio was built in the early nineteenth century as a venue for the traditional ball game palla al bracciale. Today it is internationally renowned for the Macerata Opera Festival, which attracts world-class artists and audiences every summer. Outside the festival season, the arena is open to visitors.

Many of Macerata's cultural venues offer reduced admission for university students.
Check each venue's website for current prices and special offers.

Parks & Green Spaces

Beyond its historic streets and cultural landmarks, Macerata offers a variety of parks and scenic viewpoints where you can unwind, exercise or simply enjoy the surrounding landscape.

Giardini Diaz

via Giardini Diaz, 1

Macerata's main public park is a favourite meeting place for students and locals alike. Featuring tree-lined paths, gardens, fountains and open green spaces, it's the perfect place for a walk, outdoor exercise or a relaxing break between classes, just a short stroll from the historic centre.

Villa Lauri Park

Parco di Villa Lauri

Villa Lauri Park is one of Macerata's largest and most peaceful green spaces. Its wooded paths, panoramic viewpoints and historic setting make it an ideal place for walking, jogging or taking a break. The restored Villa Lauri is also home to UniMC's Confucius Institute, a centre for Chinese language and cultural activities.

Sasso d'Italia Viewpoint

Viale dell'Indipendenza

One of Macerata's most scenic viewpoints, the Sasso d'Italia offers breathtaking views over the Marche countryside, stretching to the Adriatic Sea and the Sibillini Mountains on clear days. The recently renovated park includes a bar and refreshment kiosk, making it a popular destination for a walk, an aperitivo or a relaxing break in nature.
